

ALASKA PENINSULA AND CHIGNIK AREAS

CHIGNIK AREA

The Chignik Area includes all waters of Alaska on the south side of the Alaska Peninsula enclosed by 156° 20.22' W. Longitude (the longitude of the southern entrance to Imuya Bay near Kilokak Rocks) and a line extending southeast (135°) from the tip of Kupreanof Point. [See map on page 27, combined with Alaska Peninsula Area map.]

Customary and Traditional Use Determinations:

Chignik Area. Residents of the Chignik Area may take halibut, salmon, and fish (except for steelhead and rainbow trout) for customary and traditional uses.

Special Provisions:

NO SUBSISTENCE FISHING PERMIT REQUIRED. You can take fish at any time without a subsistence fishing permit, except salmon, rainbow trout, steelhead trout, and char, or as restricted in the following regulations. If you take rainbow trout and steelhead trout incidentally in other subsistence net fisheries, you may keep them for subsistence purposes.

You may take salmon, trout and char only with a subsistence fishing permit. You may take no more than 250 salmon for subsistence purposes unless otherwise specified on the subsistence fishing permit.

You may take halibut for subsistence purposes only by a single handheld line with no more than two hooks attached. The daily harvest limit for halibut is two fish and the possession limit is two daily harvest limits. No person may possess sport-taken and subsistence-taken halibut on the same day.

Recordkeeping/Permit. You must keep a record on the reverse side of the permit of subsistence-caught fish, and complete the record immediately upon taking the fish. This permit record must be returned no later than October 31.

Regulations:

You may take fish other than salmon by gear listed in this part unless restricted under the terms of a subsistence fishing permit.

You may take salmon by seines, gillnets, rod and reel, or with gear specified on a subsistence fishing permit.

Chignik Lake. You may not use purse seines to take salmon.

Chignik River/Black and Chignik Lake areas. You may not take salmon in the Chignik River, upstream from the ADF&G weir site or counting tower, in Black Lake, or any tributary to Black and Chignik Lakes.

Chignik Area: If you hold a commercial fishing license, you may not subsistence fish for salmon from 48 hours before the first commercial salmon fishing opening in the Chignik Area through September 30.
